

Teneo appointed Voluntary Administrator of The Bathla Group

Sydney - 25 August 2026 - Teneo Australia has been appointed Voluntary Administrator of The Bathla Group and its subsidiary companies.

Administrators Stephen Longley, Rebecca Gill, Daniel Walley, Adam Colley and Andy Scott have assumed control of the affected companies and commenced an immediate assessment of the Group's financial position.

The administrators' immediate priority is to stabilise the Group's operations and work with lenders, and other key stakeholders to support employees and the continued delivery of projects.

Teneo has commenced urgent discussions with the Group's lenders to maintain construction activity and support the ongoing operation of the business during the administration process.

"Our priority is to stabilise the business so that construction activity and property settlements can continue in the ordinary course. Our objective is to ensure project continuity wherever practicable, and work with lenders to minimise disruption for employees, customers and contractors," Stephen Longley, Head of Teneo Australia Financial Advisory said.

Bathla CEO, Robert Loader said: "We recognise this is a difficult situation, which is why we have taken a proactive decision to appoint voluntary administrators as it is in the best interest of all stakeholders.

"The business has been through a period of declining sales and falling property prices, while construction costs have increased. We will work constructively with the administrators to support the continued delivery of much needed housing for Western Sydney."

Further updates will be provided to employees, customers, creditors and subcontractors as the administration progresses.
